

Climate Change Leadership in Practice

1MV078 | Fall 2019

Literature Overview

The course literature is an integral part of the course. During the course you are required to read several books, as well as materials from an online course reader.

To ensure a clear communication with guest speakers and classmates be sure to come prepared to all lectures, workshops and seminars having completed the associated reading.

Books

The mandatory course books are the following:

- Alvesson, M., 1956, Blom, M., 1972 & Sveningsson, S., 1959 2017, Reflexive leadership: organising in an imperfect world, SAGE, London.
- Hawken, P. ed., 2017. Drawdown: The most comprehensive plan ever proposed to reverse global warming. Penguin.
- Klein, N., 1970 2018, The battle for paradise: Puerto Rico takes on the disaster capitalists, Haymarket Books, Chicago, Ill.
- Stoknes, P.E. 2015, What we think about when we try not to think about global warming: toward a new psychology of climate action, Chelsea Green Publishing, White River Junction, Vermont.
- Wallace-Wells, D. 2019, "The Uninhabitable Earth" in Random House USA Inc.
- The Beam #6 March 2018 - United People of Climate Action

At least one copy of each book will be available in the CEMUS Library (to read there, not to take home) and can be borrowed from the Geocentrum library.

You will also nominate and read one elective book of your choosing to read during the course of the semester.

Course Reader

The online course reader containing articles and videos relating to specific lectures, workshops and seminars will be published online on Studentportalen at the start of the course. There is also a preliminary guide for the course readings available on the course website here <http://www.cemus.uu.se/cclip-course-reader/>

The online course reader acts as a guide for what should be read, when. It also indicates what is required reading and what is recommended for further learning.
