

Mandatory Literature/Books

Sustainability and Development in Latin America

CEMUS | Centre for Environment and Development Studies | Autumn Semester 2021

The course “Sustainability and Development in Latin America” uses three mandatory course books (fully accessible online, through the Uppsala University library and student login):

- Deere, C.D. & Royce, F. (2018). Rural Social Movements in Latin America: Organizing for Sustainable Livelihoods. University Press of Florida.
- Carbonnier, G., Campodónico H. & Vázquez S. T. (2017). Alternative Pathways to Sustainable Development: Lessons from Latin America.
- Galeano, E. (1973). Open Veins of Latin America; Five Centuries of the Pillage of a Continent. New York: Monthly Review Press.